

Charlie

Name: Charlie
Sex: Female
Age: 11 months
Breed: Mastiff Mix

Charlie is a very gentle placid girl with a great temperament. She is so beautiful and loving, loves pats and cuddles. She is a bit unsure around new people but tends to be ok once she gets to know them. Great alert dog, she will always bark at anyone at the gate until we tell her its ok but will never barks for "no reason". She is great with other dogs and loves loves loves to play! She can be a little bit boisterous and get a bit excited as she is still a pup really so depends how tolerant the other dog is. Although she is quite submissive so shouldn't be a problem. She would need another doggy friend/playmate or someone that could spend a lot of time with her; otherwise I think she will be a bit unhappy and destructive.

She still does like to chew the odd thing so needs a bone or chew every day to keep her entertained then she is fine. Charlie is good with basic commands although she can have selective hearing sometimes! House trained and has learnt to stay only on her mat she is very smart and learning quite quickly. She is also very responsive to food so easy to train using that. She is getting better with food but this is something that still needs work with her. If you're not paying attention she will take it from your hand, but if u command her to be gentle she will be. For this reason I am not sure how she would be with kids at this stage until she has better food manners. She is also still a little bit mouthy, doesn't bite but likes to gently nibble when she gets excited. She would be a great dog for someone and hope she finds a loving home she deserves.
