

Decker

Name: Decker

Sex: Male

Age: Approx 12 months

Breed: Staffy x Lab

Decker has been in care for a little while only because we haven't been able to get photos of him. This boy is a gem. We think he is Staffy x possibly Lab, but whatever he is, he is a lovely dog. He is medium in size and I doubt that he will grow any more. Not sure how old but around the 12 mth age group. He still behaves like a puppy when he plays with other dogs but when he goes out he great. He walks really well on the lead and at the moment we are working on heel and the sit which he is picking up well.

He is pretty smart and his recall is good. He does love to run off on a walk off lead but he doesn't go far before he is looking for you and when you call he will come back. He is great with other dogs although he can be a bit annoying and grab their collars or likes to chew them on the neck, but he is learning that's not ok. Decker would suit most homes although I wouldn't recommend him with very young children as he can be a bit nippy when he gets excited.

Adoption Fee: $350
