

Sapphire

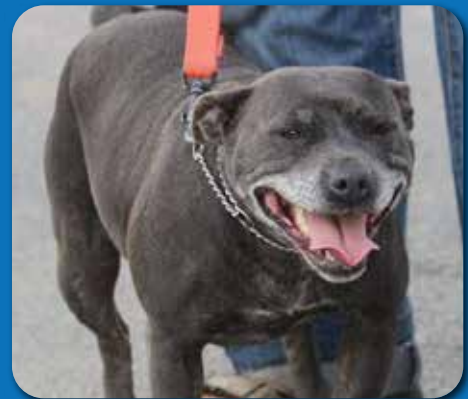

Name: Sapphire

Sex: Female

Age: 5 years

Breed: Staffordshire Bull Terrier

Hello, my name is Sapphire, but I don't answer to that so I get called Willow. I am looking for my one true love. I am attractive, muscular, petite and particularly adorable. I like to keep fit by walking and running. I am very good on a lead. I am also very agile so I do need a secure yard. Please do not leave me alone too long though, although I am very good company I do not like to be on my own too much. I am happy to play with other dogs but I crave human affection.... I need someone who can make me feel special. In return I will fill your heart with joy. I am very smoochy so you will never have to ask twice for a cuddle. Whenever you need me I will be there, literally at your feet, ready to share my love. I am very playful and plenty of fun to be around so children adore me. The feeling is completely mutual. Little people bring out my cute... I just love it when they rub my tummy. I could make a great addition to a family but I would shine brighter I'd I had my own special human. I am an excellent companion. I'm not an outside all the time dog, through the day is fine but I do need a nice warm inside space at night. Essentially I am toilet trained; I might just need a little bit of encouragement in a new home.

I am happy to travel; in fact I am happiest when I am out and about with my people. As I mentioned earlier I am social with other dogs. Cats however I am no good with. I am sweet, completely lovable and absolutely guaranteed make you smile. Check out my gorgeous photo, if you're interested, give me a call and maybe we can arrange to meet.
